Dear Doctor McKhann:

We thoroughly enjoyed Dr. Huttenlocher's visit out here and are very grateful to you for introducing him to us. I would like to refer you to my letter of 17 January 1962 since I do not believe there is any necessity for me to repeat that we would like you to join us here at the previously agreed upon rank and salary. We realize fully the problems of an investigative program in neurochemistry and the need for space and initiating funds. I do not think that I need to go into much detail as to the obvious support you would get from us in that direction. As you know we believe that the neurological signs are probably one of the most important aspects of Pediatrics and, therefore, require wholehearted support within the Department.

From our previous conversation I am assuming that this offer would be effective as of February 1, 1963. Since we have now met and considered you and Dr. Huttenlocher, I think it only fair that we receive a decision from ~~himself~~ you within the next couple of weeks.

I have written to Dr. Adams informing him that we were interested and it is only appropriate that you both discuss these offers with him and Dr. Dodge. I might add that if there is any problem or doubt, you or Dr. Huttenlocher should feel free to call me so that we could have some discussions.

I hope that with these additions and changes in yours and my thoughts, you will find it relatively easy to make a decision and to accept our offer.

Sincerely yours,

Norman Kretschmer, M. D., Ph. D.
